Songs for Wednesday Nights: If you have favorites, you would like us to play on Wednesday evenings, please submit your selections to Art. You may select songs from our book or others not included there.

Pot Luck and Presentation: We will confirm this morning, but plans are to have a Pot luck lunch and make a presentation to Meagan and Andrew as they anticipate the arrival of their second child.

Wednesday Evening Study: Starting this Wednesday, we will begin a study of Luke-Acts. These two books go together as they were both written by Luke to Theophilus. By word count, Luke wrote more of our New Testament than any other writer. We will alternate teachers through the series every couple of months.

“Quote” of the week

"Rejoice in knowing that you belong to God and that He is conforming you to the image of His Son. See every event of this day as part of that process. Yield to the Spirit's prompting, and take heart that God will accomplish His will."

—John MacArthur

Welcome to our gathering! Please join us in worship and fellowship.

Please join us in worshipping God as we sing, pray and read the Bible. We also share communion each Sunday remembering the sacrifice of Jesus who gave himself to die for our sins. If you wish to partake with us, you are free to do so.

We hold the Bible to be God's inspired message for us and hold it in highest esteem.

If a question comes to mind, please ask it. We will try to help you find answers from God. Please let us know of any way we can serve you.

There Are No Small Tasks...

The 19th-century Russian actor, Konstantin Stanislavski, famously said, "There are no small roles, only small actors." The point is that we should do our very best no matter what our role is. Especially is that true in serving God.

- Who carried the lame man to the gate where he was healed by James and John (Acts 3:2)?
- What were the names of the four men who brought the paralytic to Jesus (Mark 2:3)?
- Are we told who the young men were who carried out Ananias and Sapphira (Acts 5:6,10)?
- Do we know who brought Paul to Athens and followed his command for Silas and Timothy to come to him there (Acts 17:14-15)?
- What were the names of those in the household of Stephanas who, like him, devoted themselves for ministry to the saints (1 Cor. 16:15)?

The New Testament is full of statements about individuals whose households were baptized along with them: Cornelius (Acts 11:14), Lydia (Acts 16:15), the Philippian jailor (Acts 16:33), Crispus (Acts 18:8), Aristobulus (Rom. 16:10), Narcissus (Rom. 16:11), and Onesiphorus (2 Tim. 4:19). What contributions did they make to the congregations where they were members? How many will be in heaven because of these unnamed saints?

We may wonder what great works we might do to carve a spiritual legacy, whether in the local church or even beyond. Perhaps we feel that we toil in anonymity, unappreciated or overlooked. How many acts of service, kindness, generosity, and sacrifice never make the church bulletin or announcements? Let us take great comfort in the knowledge that God knows. He's even writing it down (Rev. 20:12,15). As the writer of Hebrews told some unnamed saints, "God is not unjust so as to forget your work and the love which you have shown toward His name, in having ministered and in still ministering to the saints" (Heb. 6:10).

Never forget the encouraging poem of William Dunkerley.

Is your place a small place?
Tend it with care!
He set you there.
Is your place a large place?
Guard it with care!
He set you there.
Whatever your place, it is
Not yours alone, but His
Who set you there.

You are touching lives who may not think to tell you that you are. Your influence and example may be the difference in someone overcoming who might have been overcome. Your simple word or deed of kindness may be the fuel for another's faith. Paul's encouragement is weighty, when he says, "Let us not lose heart in doing good, for in due time we will reap if we do not grow weary. So then, while we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, and especially to those who are of the household of the faith" (Gal. 6:9-10). How insignificant is the lowliest private in the Lord's Army, adorning His armor (Eph. 6:11)? There are no small tasks in His kingdom! Let us be "always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that [our] toil is not in vain in the Lord" (1 Cor. 5:58)! ~ Neal Pollard
